Voices from the Border

Anti-racist solidarity and advocacy networks

The project is developed within the context of migration policies between Europe and North Africa, with particular focus on the border areas between Morocco and the Spanish enclaves of Ceuta and Melilla. The project aims to give visibility to what has happened and is still happening at these borders, through the direct accounts of those who have been witnesses and/or victims of such violence. The collected voices and local activism will be showcased at public events in Italy (Palermo, Turin and Padua) and in Brussels to reinforce transnational anti-racist networks and pressure European institutions to address border racism.
