

Droit en Mouvement

From Legal Power to Collective Action

The project aims to increase the individual and collective capacity of young men and their families, who are directly affected by discriminatory police practices, to defend themselves against these practices, highlight their discriminatory nature, and contribute to putting an end to them.

(RE)Claim
Ressources
pour l'Égalité

France (Paris and Lyon regions)

21 months
(Feb. 2026–Oct. 2027)

- Institutional/structural racism
- Young people

- Coalition building/strengthening
- Legal/public awareness
- Legal assistance
- Research
- Educational activities
- Capacity building

Activities

- A resource kit to strengthen collective self-defense against discriminatory practices
- Workshops on rights awareness using participatory and peer-learning methodologies
- Training of paralegals to effectively support people in challenging these illegal practices
- Collaborative legal self-defense workshops to develop defense strategies
- Community of practice for paralegals and community activists in the field
- Collaborative documentation of discriminatory practices
- Ongoing participatory evaluation, both immediate and long-term.

Contact: contact.reclaim@proton.me